My name is Vern Lovic, I'm a snake enthusiast living in Southern Thailand. I'm interested in snakes, other reptiles, and many other wildlife species found in Thailand and across Asia. I enjoy taking photos and videos, but I don't keep or sell snakes. Just don't believe in it. Never did. That doesn't mean I don't have friends that keep snakes – I do. I respect others beliefs about the subject, we're all different!

I added some information here from a number of resources, and a lot of my own personal experience.

Note – Some information found on the pages of ThailandSnakes.com will be outdated, and some will be incorrect. Every effort was made to ensure factual information, but as it happens the information contained on these pages is not without error. I am in good company though because I have not found any snake resource to be infallible. If you see something wrong – feel free to let me know.

If you need a snake identified post your image or description to our public Facebook group here: Thailand Snakes.

If you're interested in Wildlife Photography – I offer courses – free and paid here:

Asia Wildlife Photos >

EMAIL – If you want to talk to me about a snake project, herping field trip, eco-photography trip, using images, technical papers, or a visit to Thailand – and also for any EMERGENCY – you can write me at the email below.

I don't answer snake Identification requests by email.
